Saturday Bank Statement Strong and Fully Up to Expectations-Week's Trade at Indianapolis.

At New York, Saturday, money on call was easy all day at 2 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 7@9 per cent. Sterling exchange was dull, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.84% @4.85 for demand and $4.83@4.8314 for sixty days. Posted rates, $4.84@4.86; commercial bills, $4.81% @4.82.

Silver certificates no sales; 731/2c. The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Reserve, increase...... $4,508,225 Deposits, increase..... 9,215,500 Circulation, increase 544,400 The banks now hold $28,628,726 in excess of the repuirements of the 25 per cent. rule. The loan committee of the New York clearing house yesterday cancelled $400,000 loan certificates and called $780,000 for Monday. Total cancelled last week, $5,560,000; total outstanding, $19,150,000. The speculation on the New York Stock Exchange Saturday was absolutely without feature as to the shares which generally figure in the daily transactions, only one stock, Whisky, reaching 10,000 shares, and the total sales footed up only 50,000. The changes were mainly confined to fractions, and only three of the active list exceeded a one-per-cent. limit-Whisky, General Electric and Northwest moving within a radius of 114 per cent. Taking into consideration the fact that the trading was remarkably light in volume, the market surprisingly firm, and the tendency was for the most part toward better prices. Some shares, however, sagged off for want of supporting orders, and in the final dealings there was a very slight reaction from the best prices of the day, but the tone at the close was strong, and compared with the closing figures of Friday the general list shows advances ranging from 1/4 to 1 per cent. The bank statement, which was quite as favorable as was expected. moved stocks up a fraction when it was made public, but the absence from the street of nearly all the large operators prevented it from having any marked inhuence on the trading. The heavy increase n deposits was, perhaps, the most agreebeen hardly anticipated that they would approach so nearly a ten-million increase as they did. The cash increase of over 6,000,000 was also regarded as quite satisfactory, and the establishment of a sur-plus of more than $28,000,000 was accepted as going far toward securely anchoring confidence in the monetary situation.

Comparatively speaking, the bond market was more active than the share speculation, and, while in the main firm, some heavy declines were effected. Louisville, New Al-bany & Chicago fives fell 3, and Chicago & Western Indiana general mortgage sixes 1 per cent. The savings banks have not as yet begun to buy back the bonds sold during the recent panic to strengthen their cash reserves, awaiting, undoubtedly, for the result of the duel between the silver and anti-silver forces in the Senate. When they do come into the street a purchaser it is pretty certain that prime securities of the class in which these banks invest will appreciate in value. The ease of the money market in the East is reflected in most of the monetary centers of the country, except in the South, in which stringency prevails pretty generally, and in Louisville, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Joseph, Omaha and Denver, where money is quoted as rather tight. Closing bond quotations were:

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Trade Hardly Up to Expectations-Values Stendy and Firm.

While on two days of the past week trade was quite active, taking the six days as a whole it was not up to expectations, There is a drag to business in most lines, which seems hard to overcome. The steady tone to prices and some improvement in collections has a favorable tendency. Most of the retail merchants are in better shape financially than a year ago, as during the depressed times they have kept close to the shore and collected more promptly than usual. It is also noticeable that they continue buying goods more on the hand-tomouth style. The dry-goods men have ex-perienced a fair trade, but to sell goods they must make some concessions of prices. Grocers are having about their usual volume of trade. The commission men are complaining that they are just beginning to feel the depression in business in the natural-gas territory, which draws its supplies of fruits and vegetables from Indianapolis commission houses. It is stated that the shipments to this territory are 50 per cent. lighter than two months ago and 100 per cent. below the corresponding period last year. Receipts of poultry and eggs are light and prices firm on an improving demand. The flour market is fairly active at the range of prices of the last sixty days. The hide market is more active, with prices firmer. Provisions are weaker.

The local grain market is spasmodic in its character; a day in which cereals are active and prices stronger is followed by a day of dullness and a weaker tone to prices, but to take a week through the fluctuations in value vary but little. Track bids yesterday ruled as follows:

GRAIN WEAKER AGAIN

Both Corn and Wheat Lost a Cent During Saturday's Business.

Increase in the Visible Hurt Wheat, and a Disposition to Sell Knocked Out Corn-Provisions Firm.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 .- To-day's markets were narrow, but the heavy feeling in grain continued. In wheat the prospect of an increase in the visible, the light exports and liberal primary receipts tended to depress prices. Evening up was the order, on account of the holiday Monday and the government report Tuesday. Wheat and corn each closed about 1c under yesterday's resting quotations. Provisions were firm, and closed 5@15c higher. Wheat started 1/401/4c lower, recovered slightly and fluctuated within %c range. The export clearances from both coasts, of wheat and flour, were about 300,000 bushels smaller, and from the Atlantic seaboard and gulf ports were about 480,000 bushels less of wheat than the preceding week. The receipts in the Northwest were larger, and at primary markets for the week were a little in excess of the preceding week, and an increase from a million to two million bushels in the visible supply is expected against an increase of 3,550,000 bushels the corresponding week a year ago. In corn, more disposition was manifested to sell futures and buy the May early. Later the reverse conditions prevailed. Local bulls seem to have lost courage, and many operators who were recently long good-sized lines have unloaded and are expecting further declines. loaded and are expecting further declines. On any indication of weakness they aid the decline by selling freely. Some of the larger sellers of vesterday again disposed of a good deal to-day, while many of the shorts were inclined to take profits. There was a fair trade in May oats, but the other months were slow. The close was steady for October, but 1/4@1/4c lower for the other months. The provision trade is very slow, attracting outside (speculation, Orders today were for the most part to buy for January delivery. There was a firm feeling during the entire session, but prices got their main lift in the last five minutes. Compared with closing prices yesterday, the principal changes are an advance of 171/2c in January pork, 21/2c in October, and from .05c to .071/2c in January lard. October ribs are .10c lower and January ribs

.10c higher. Freights were dull and rates easy at 314c for wheat and 2c for corn to Buffalo. Estimated receipts for Monday are: Wheat, 160 cars; corn, 750 cars; oats, 265 cars; hogs, 22,000. The leading futures ranged

Dry Goods. NEW YORK, Oct. 7,-The week closed on rather disappointing results, speaking for the dry goods market at large. Mail orders are coming in fairly well for cotton goods, which the resident buyers are now neglecting. There is a very moderate business in prints and printed fabrics, with dark fancies preferred. Print cloths rule slow of sale and rather easier, if anything, in prices; 2%c remains the basis for 64 square. Ginghams and woven fabrics rule dull except for spring goods, which are coming into rotice more prominently. Woolens and dress goods dull. Foreign dry goods neglected. The jobbing trade is tapering off, and the week may be said to close on a dull, uninteresting market.

EFFECTS OF ENVIRONMENT.

A Philosophical Discourse Inspired by a Timid Country Couple. New York Herald.

It did not take a close observer to see that they were from the country. His tall and lean figure was adorned with an ill-fitting suit of clothes, and his large, clumsy boots were still covered with the dust of country roads—a sight so keenly appreciated by the courteous bunco steerer.

She had rosy cheeks and was plump of figure. Had she worn other than a red dress and not an old-fashoned bonnet, with grean ribbons she might have been with green ribbons, she might have been termed real pretty.

They stood in front of the Astor House, looking about them in a dazed sort of way. Evidently their desire was to cross the street, but the long line of trucks and wagons, the cable cars, with their incessant clanging and the noise generally caused them to hesitate.

Presently she clutched him by the arm, and anxiously, even nervously, looked into his face. "Mercy, John, let's go back ter hum. This noise is too much." "Yer right," replied John. "Can't stand She clutched his arm, and, with hurried steps, they proceeded down Barclay street.

A party of gentlemen on the steps of the Astor House had been watching the couple and overheard the remarks passed between them. "That shows you what effect environment has upon people," said one, philosophically. "They were brought up in the country, where probably no murmur of the business and commercial world ever found its way. To them the lazy wind sighing among the branches of the trees, the singing of the birds and the running waters of the brook form an important part of their daily life. They would be unhappy, even in the grandest palace, without this simple yet beautiful music of

"Yet how different it is with me, and undoubtedly with you all. I tire of the country in a few days. To me the scene before us now is as inspiring and beautiful as any I ever saw elsewhere. The rumbling of the vehicles over the pavement, the clanging of the bells, the hissing of steam, the hurrying feet and the unceasing noise of bustle and business all combine to make one grand symphony that my ears never tire of hearing. I can work and think the better for it, but were I banished to some rustic scene work would cease, inspiration would leave me, and I would even be unhappy, longing for the busy environments of a city like New York.

"As it is with individuals so it is with nations, with kingdoms, empires and republics. Their characters, their trials and their nationalities can all be traced to their surroundings, and I believe there is nothing in what we call human nature that is not a result of environment. Change the universe, the customs and manner of living, and, mark my word, you change human nature."

The philosophical gentleman looked proudly at his listeners, and with the bow of an orator retiring from the platform he sauntered into the lobby of the Astor

MR. YANG YU.

The New Chinese Minister-His Suite -Two Grown Daughters. Harper's Weekly.

The new Chinese minister, Yang Yu, i about fifity years of age, and quite stout, with a round full face. His eyes are dark and piercing, peering out from beneath a high forehead, and he wears the thin black mustache and goatee that are distinctive of the Oriental. He moves about with the air of dignified self-possession which is also characteristic of high-bred Chinamen. In rank Yang Yu is but a few degrees removed from royalty, and he comes to the United States as a more influential representative of the Emperor and one of greater prestige than any of his predecessors. He is favorably known to the foreign residents in China, whose esteem he won by his energetic attention to their interests at the time of the riots at Wuhu, and he is reputed to be an enlight-ened and very broad-minded official.

The new envoy travels in great splendor, and when he disembarked from the Gaelic at San Francisco, Aug. 15, he was followed by a suite of eighty-two persons, whose baggage, as weighed at the custom house, aggregated eighty tons. All of these attaches did not accompany Yang Yu to Washington, however; some of them being destined for diplomatic service at Madrid and Lima, as the minister is accredited to those capitals as well as to Washington. In the suite were several young Chinamen who had been educated at American colleges, and of whom one of the cleverest is Mun Jew Chung, still remembered at Yale as the coxswain of one of the university

Next to their flowing robes of silk and brocade, their odd, parti-colored hats, and the other articles of attire in which the minister and his suite were magnificently costumed, the people of San Francisco and Washington have been most directly interested in the women of the party-the minister's wife, the five ladies who attend her. and her two daughters who are fast approaching the "coming out" age, and may eventually make their debut in the society of the capital. Mrs. Yung Yu herself is rarely visible to profane eyes. In accordance with Chinese custom she lives a life of almost hermitlike seclusion, dining alone and seeing no one, for visitors are not permitted to enter her apartment.

Sweet Oil in Scarlet Fever. Dr. Hutchinson, in Washington Post.

Among the many mothers who read these lines there may be one or more whose child has scarlet fever-that terrible disease that has come to be so danger-ous of late years-and who will be glad to know of anything to help the baby. And this is something so simple, yet so effective, that no physician can object to its employment. It is the application to the entire body of warm sweet oil, well rubbed in.

There is something curious in its imme diate good effect. Almost twenty years ago I had five patients in one family sick with the anginose, or throat variety of scarlet fever, and had them all brought into one room, for convenience sake as well as seclusion. Five little heads returned my greeting every time a visit was made, and each clamored loudly for his oil bath. It was plentifully used, then a woolen night gown put on, and nothing else done. No medicine was given, and but little food was needed to supplement ab-sorbed oil. And in recovery there was an absence of usual complications, so that in my Western town oil baths came to be generally used, with excellent result. Other fats were tried, but none answered the double purpose of nutrition and skin cooler so well as plain olive oil. It is well worth a trial.

The Awful Pause.

Chicago Journal. "It is quite fatal to appear stupid and uninterested when you are out in society, you know," said the pretty girl to an amused listener to her prattle, "and I have discovered a capital recipe against looking dull, which I will give you gratis. At Mrs. A's, the other day, I found myself at a big luncheon, with a lot of older people present, and on taking our places at the table I was dismayed to find that one of my neighbors was an elderly woman and a total stranger, who turned her shoulder to me during the greatest part of the repast, and the other was Milly B., who is a dear girl; but has not an idea in her head. After the first few minutes had passed in total silence, a bright idea struck me. 'Milly,' I said, 'let's count; we will look just as if we were talking, and it's ever so much easier. When I leave off you begin.' And I began, in my most vivacious manner, 'One, two, three, four, five, six, seven— then I paused, and Milly, showing her little white teeth with bona fide merriment, went on, 'Eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thir-teen, fourteen, fifteen,' and we both ended with a burst of genuine laughter. "'What a good time those girls are having,' I heard our vis-a-vis saying to her neighbor, rather enviously, I thought, 'I wonder what they are talking about."

He Rested the Seventh Day. New York World.

The country clergyman has been examining the little boys' class in regard to the process of creation. They had stumbled through the first six days as recorded in Genesis fairly successful. Then he asked a little boy what God did on the seventh day. "Please, sir," replied the lad, "that was his day off."

THE INDIANAPOLIS

SUNDAY

The Journal's price for daily is only 15 cents a week, and it has a very wide circulation, reaching a large number of people hitherto unable to afford the luxury of a first-class daily paper. Reports from agents and subscribers indicate a continued increase, and that what used to be regarded as a luxury has become a necessity. The new readers not only remain, but they are constantly increasing.

It is the purpose of the Journal to make itself even more indispensable to its patrons, new and old, and to still further widen its field. To this endit will not only endeavor to maintain the characteristics which have established its reputation as by far the best newspaper in Indiana, but will add such new features and improvements from time to time as are in accord with journalistic progress and that may tend to the advantage of its readers. It will, for example, give increased attention to State and local interests. What Indianians want is a paper in which Indiana affairs given are especial prominence and importance. This want the Journal has always supplied as no other paper published outside or inside the State is abla to do; but the rapidly developing industries and business and social enterprises of the community call for additional consideration and space, With this in view its corps of correspondents has been increased until it has a representative in nearly every town in the State Special traveling correspondents will visit the news centers of the State at or matter of general interest. Being published in the geographical center of Indiana the Journal is afforded unusual facilities for securing news promptly, and, what is of greater consequence, is able to reach its subscribers without delay. The ruuning of morning trains from Indianapolis is very favorable to the early distribution of papers sent by mail or express, and in most towns within a radius of a hundred miles Journals are delivered as early as in the city where they are printed. In the more remote counties there is but little loss of time in transportation. The Journal is the paper for Indianians and particularly for Indiana Republicans. The change of administration involves the settlement of political problems likely to be of the most direct personal concern to every farmer and business man in the State. All such matters will be set forth in detail, the Journal's Washington correspondent being instructed to give especial attention to every hing having a possible bearing on Indiana interests.

frequent intervals, thus insuring the

"write up" of every important event

But though the Journal is Republican in politics it is non-partisan in the publication of news. Its constantendeavor is to secure facts unbiased by prejudice and to make its columns trustworthy records of each day's happenings. A large editorial force supplements the work of the press associations and the correspondents, and furnishes careful supervision for each department.

The Sunday Journal has a well-established literary character, superior to that of any Western paper. It is not defaced by "plate matter" nor filled with a heterogeneous mass of syndicate literature, but its contributions and miscellany are chosen with a view to their special fitness and adaptability to the tastes of the readers. The reading matter in any given number of the Sunday Journal is equal in quantity and is not inferior in quality to that found in the leading magazines. As an educational adjunct and a source of entertainment the Sunday Journal is indispensable in every well-regulated family.

The Weekly Journal, at $1 per year, contains more reading matter than can be obtained for the money in any other shape. It is carefully edited and offer the news of the week in condensed shape and a variety of miscellany, agricultural and household literature that render it one of the best invest ments that any family can make. Try it and see. It has a large circulation in this and other States and agents find it an easy matter to secure large lists of subscribers. Special inducements offered to agents.
